COVID-19

For the ongoing safety and security of travellers and Helijet employees, in adherence with Government of Canada COVID-19 travel restrictions, please note front-line representatives (including Reservations agents) will ask you specific questions relating to any symptoms you may have, and whether you are under a mandatory Public Health quarantine. We will not be able to board you on a flight if you are displaying symptoms or under quarantine. Transport Canada also requires all passengers to wear a non-medical mask or face covering for the duration of your flight, or be denied boarding.

During the COVID-19 crisis, Helijet is continuing to monitor and adjust flight schedules, and has increased sanitizing and physical distancing procedures to include:

- Limiting the maximum number of passengers in all aircraft to six, instead of the usual 12, to increase the distance between travellers.
- Sanitizing aircraft cabins before each flight, as well as disinfecting high touch areas within the cabin and cockpit.
- Providing a detailed disinfection regime for all aircraft at the end of every day, to ensure no contaminants remain for passengers who board the aircraft next.
- Making hand sanitizer available to all travellers and staff at each terminal.
- Deeper cleaning of terminal facilities, washrooms and offices on a more frequent basis.
- Complimentary food and beverage service at terminals has changed to offer only grab-and-go pre-packaged foods and beverages**.
